Venice to Upgrade Lighting System

30 New Street Lights Scheduled; Power of Others to be Raised

A plan for upgrading the entire street lighting system in Venice, called for installation of 30 new lights, was approved by the Venice city council Friday night.

The program, to be initiated by the Illinois Power Co. immediately, was introduced by First Ward Alderman Lloyd Patterson, chairman of the council's lighting committee, which has been mapping the project with power company engineers for the past several months.

In addition to installation of 30 new lights to remove "dark spots" located during a city-wide survey, the program calls for raising 137 present 4000-lumen street lights to 10,500-lumen mercury vapor lights, and increasing 13 present 6000-lumen lights to 10,500-lumen mercury vapor lamps.

No Cost To City
Patterson pointed out that installing all the new lights and increasing the power of existing lights will be done by the power company at no cost to the city except the increased monthly power bill for operation of the lighting system.

The city has been paying a monthly electric bill of about $454, Patterson pointed out. Completion of the revised lighting system will be $635 per month, an increase of approximately $180 a month or $1800 a year.

The program also entails removal of one present 4000-lumen light and retention of six present 4000-lumen lights, and removal of one present 6000-lumen light and retention of 14 6000-lumen lights.

Installation of new units will include 25 new 6000-lumen and five new 10,500-lumen units.

Whiteway Unchanged
Patterson said the revision affects the city's entire street lighting system in all parts of the city except the "whiteway" along Broadway. This phase of the system will remain unchanged.

The program, he added, will place at least one street light, and in some instances two, in each block and in the center of each alley throughout Venice.

Mayor John E. Lee said he believes the program will take care of the city's street lighting needs for several years. He commended the lighting committee for its work on the project.

Over 60 Mitchell area residents, conferring Thursday night, approved formation of a committee that will seek amendment of the Madison county zoning law and rejection of a new Chouteau township landfill.

Major decision reached was to wage an all-out fight, and to seek the assistance of all 49 members of the Madison County Board of Supervisors. Special emphasis was placed on two committees of the board, Sanitation and Zoning & Subdivision Control.

Some form of legal action also may be taken. The group authorized hiring Attorney Randall Robertson to represent it.

Sweeping criticism of Madison county politics was voiced at the meeting, during which the possibility of death threats was discussed.

Mrs. Sally Segar of Mitchell, chosen as chairman of the committee, said she will lead the effort even if it costs her life, and urged others to take up the cause if she does not complete it.

The group indicated it is convinced powerful forces are committed to maintaining a high volume of trash shipments from Missouri to Illinois. Several speakers stressed that most dumping in this area involves Missouri, and that a large number of trucks is seen on area roads.

Ignoring the saying that "you can't fight 'em all," the Mitchell area residents zoned in on the Madison city political organization as its primary target, citing four points:

1. As owner of the Chain of Rocks Bridge and its property near the bridge terminus in Chouteau township, the city of Madison is considering leasing 50 acres to the former operator of the controversial Chouteau Island Corp. landfill.

2. As a dominant factor of the Madison county Democratic party, the Madison city political group is influential with county officials and administrators and county board committees.

3. A proposed operator of the landfill is an associate of the "Brown" group, having formerly served on the Chain of Rocks Bridge staff.

4. A public announcement was made that the proposed new lease was under consideration in Madison, even though a sanitation permit was issued by County Administrator Jack Clifford June 19 with the approval of the county board's Sanitation Committee.

Alleging that the zoning amendment to provide greater control over new landfills has been under discussion since last winter, Thursday night's gathering described it as "mysterious" that the Zoning & Subdivision Control Committee allegedly has been delaying board consideration of the amendment.

Just as the original Chouteau landfill was established before adoption of county zoning, the new Madison landfill may avoid a stricter zoning law if its timing precedes the pending county zoning amendment on landfill zoning code amendment.

Mrs. Segar, who called Thursday's meeting at the Mitchell Boy Scout hall, was named chairman of a five-member or seven-member committee that will seek signatures on a petition. She will name the other committee members.

At the request of those present, Howard Kaseberg, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, acted as moderator of the two-hour discussion.

Musical Saw Will Be Part of Variety Show

This week's "Music Under the Stars" presentation at the 27th and Delmar entrance to Wilson Park at 8 p.m. Thursday will feature Waldo Frohardt and his musical saw, plus a comedy-dance musical variety show.
The musical saw, reports program director Warren Simpkins, bears nothing in common with the better known "Singing Saw." It consists of an ordinary carpenter's saw bent lengthwise to hold a violin chord.
"Playing the musical saw requires a strong thumb and a great deal of strength, because the musician must hold the instrument firmly between his knees while bending the saw's blade vigorously up and down with one thumb to achieve low and high pitches."
"Mr. Frohardt is one of the best at playing this novel instrument," Simpkins said. "Danny Boy" is one of the numbers Frohardt is to play.
A cast of 30 will present the variety show.

Prof. Dale L. Hiestand To Visit GC Relatives

After an absence of 22 years from Granite City "a good student who received A's and B's but who was very quiet and hardly knew he was in class" will be returning to visit his mother and relatives in the Quad-Cities.

The words above were spoken by Leonard Davis, a prominent Granite Cityan who taught English and Science at Granite City high school in the early 1940s. They refer to Dale L. Hiestand, who went on to make considerable progress in the field of scholarship.

New 45 years old and now Professor Dale L. Hiestand, the Granite City high school alumnus has gained wide recognition as a scholar, teacher and author. Numerous magazine articles and books, perhaps the best known of which is "The Pluralistic Economy" which was published in 1966, became a best-seller and has already been translated into two foreign languages.
In early August, he plans to visit his mother, Mrs. John (Rose) Elmore, 1708 Kirkpatrick Homes, and his sisters Mrs. Nadine Ryan of Granite City, Mrs. Sarabelle Corbin of Marine, and Mrs. Norma Soko and Mrs. Rosali Stern, both from Madison. His father was the late Mr. Arthur Hiestand.

Tax Collections In Venice Twp. To End July 14

Collection of taxes from Venice township taxpayers will end Friday, July 14, at 3 p.m., and a one percent penalty will be added to all payments made after that time, Frank Reideberger Jr., township collector, announced today.

Reideberger, who said collections in Venice township totaled $520,324 late Friday afternoon, urged taxpayers to make payments at the local office since a two percent collection fee on all taxes collected locally goes to the township.

He pointed out that after the books are returned to the county treasurer's office, the county gets a three percent commission on all collections and the township gets nothing.
Total in GC $732,860
Collections in Granite City, which got under way June 26, amounted to a total of $732,860 at the close of the treasurer's office Friday. Granite City taxpayers are charged with payment of $7,272,395 in real estate and personal property taxes during the tax collection period.

E. R. "Pat" Rich, city treasurer, said local collections will continue until mid-August. A definite shut-off date will be announced later.
Granite City also receives a two percent fee on all taxes paid at the treasurer's office during the local collection period. The fees usually total more than $100,000 and are used to finance city operations.

Namek township completed tax collections two weeks ago and Chouteau ended its collection period more than a month ago.

Optimists Hear Details Of Educational Television

Approximately 250,000 students in the greater St. Louis area view a total of 40 educational television programs broadcast each week over Kato-TV, Channel Nine, Granite City Optimists were told Thursday.

Robert C. Glazier, Channel Nine executive director, and Basil G. Murray, director of Kato school services division, addressed the local men's service club at its weekly luncheon meeting in the YMCA. Twenty-nine members and one guest, Frank Wheeler, a guest of John Drees, attended.

Glazier amazed some of his listeners when he said, "It is now a fact of life, that more television sets exist in the United States today than bath-tubs." He added, "Educational television is the fastest growing medium for the dissemination of knowledge ever known throughout the history of mankind."

He compared educational TV facilities as "blossoming overnight." Glazier pointed out presently more than 184 ETV stations are in operation in this country, with expectations the total will exceed more than 300 in the next two years.

The two primary objectives of educational TV, the executive director said, are to permit adults to continue to expand their knowledge, an essential part of remaining an educated person in today's world, and to serve schools through specific programming.

Glazier stated that among the most successful programs televised over the St. Louis station, include a Cub Scout—den mother training series, in which 1200 women participated and a "Learn to play a guitar" program when more than 300 youngsters registered to receive instruction.

Other popular programs included training courses for supervisory personnel, co-sponsored by the American Management Association. Both the industrial supervisors' course and the den mother training series will be repeated in the fall program schedule, the Glazier said.

The director pointed out that no federal funds are available to educational TV stations; all support is through grants, private contributions and membership. Channel Nine has no production facilities of its own, he explained, with all programs originating from the network.

An invitation was extended to club members to tour the station facilities, located at 8996 Millbrook blvd., St. Louis.

Proceeding the guest speakers, former Optimist L. Gov. David John conducted installation ceremonies for Herman R. Muelder, 1967-68 vice-president, who was unable to attend the annual installation dinner.

Dr. Raymond Troyer, president, announced an executive board meeting for 4:30 p.m. today in the United Fund office.

Club members also went on record in support of House Bill 1120, which authorizes purchase of acreage and lake bed at Horse-shoe Lake. Club secretary, Ray Ruffler, was directed to write a letter to Gov. Kerner expressing the club's recommendation.

Raymond Henley, program chairman, announced that a professional golf clinic will be held this week in conjunction with the regular session. The clinic will be conducted by Wynn Dryden, golf pro at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Mental Health Grant Here to Total $52,600

Gov. Kerner is announcing state grants totaling $4,882,911 for mental health clinics, day centers for the mentally retarded and other community mental health projects.

Of the total, $52,600 will go to the Granite City center of the Madison County Mental Health Center and $47,457 to the Alton Center.

The grants, Gov. Kerner pointed out, are awarded through the Illinois Department of Mental Health for the fiscal year which started July 1. The total is about $800,000 more than last year.

Most of the money comes from the state's Mental Health Fund, an appropriation by the General Assembly from payments by patients and their relatives for care in state mental institutions.

Of the total, $3,864,038 will go to 45 agencies for operation of 57 community mental health clinics. The clinics served more than 35,000 patients last year, an increase of 500 over the preceding year. The clinics will match the grants with $4,372,741 in local funds. Madison county has a mental health unit.

Midrag Muntany is AAUP President-Elect

A former president, Midrag Muntany, now of New York, is president-elect for 1967-69 of the American Association of University Professors.

Word of Muntany's honor was received here by Leonard R. Davis, formerly a school teacher at Granite City high school, where Bosidor Muntany, a brother of Midrag, also was a teacher.

"I received a clipping from a relative in New York and it contained no other information other than that Midrag Muntany also has been managing editor and publisher for AAUP of 'Scholarly Books in America' and that he was vice-president of AAUP in 1961," Davis said.

This Was What It Looked Like After The Fire That Destroyed The Wood River Furn. Mart ...

Fredman Bros. Branch Store in Wood River, Ill.
That Was Guttled By Fire On Friday, June 16th

Fighting Fire Inside Wood River Furniture Mart

All New Merchandise Re-routed To Granite City

When our branch store in Wood River was gutted by fire Friday night, June 16th, the store set up temporary quarters across the street in their small warehouse. Realizing that they could not use the thousands of dollars worth of new stock now on order with the factories they immediately wired, wrote or called all the manufacturers asking them to hold up shipment until other accommodations could be arranged. The factories readily agreed to work with the store in re-scheduling shipments wherever possible. However, in some cases the merchandise was already enroute or was coming off the production line and the factory had no place to store this extra stock. All these shipments have been re-routed to Fredman Bros. in Granite City. Naturally, this plus our own regular incoming merchandise puts us in a dangerously over-stocked and over-stocked situation. We must move this excess inventory as fast as it comes in. To do this we have slashed prices for below our normal July Clearance Markdowns. This is a once in a life time opportunity to furnish your home at savings that you won't be able to duplicate again. Below are just a few of the thousands of values that are jamming our store. Come early as many items are one-of-a-kind. All items listed are subject to prior sale. Hurry! Don't miss this opportunity to buy the furniture, carpeting and appliances you want at fantastic savings. Extra liberal credit terms are available during this unusual sale. Police reported that the Westfall auto failed to make a stop sign and struck the Sossamon car, which was making a left turn and was shoved into the Hayes auto.

Hurt as Car Overturns
Miss Melba Reis, 42, of 4120 Bruno avenue was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Saturday for removal of glass embedded in her left foot, resulting from a traffic accident July 9 on Highway 460, three miles east of Nashville, Ill.

She and her mother, Mrs. Eulah Reis, were hurt while passengers in an auto that skidded on rain-wet pavement, overturned twice and landed on its wheels in a ditch. The roof of the car was covered in the windshield and another window were broken.

Miss Reis received cuts about the legs and feet and her mother sustained multiple bruises, nose cuts and a possible nose fracture. Mrs. Reis was momentarily knocked unconscious.

Injured Last Night
Rain-slick pavement and a sharp curve on Franklin avenue contributed to a one-car accident at 10:10 p.m. yesterday which resulted in the operator of the vehicle being charged with careless driving.

Denise C. Berry, 16, of 5121 Lakeview drive apparently lost control of her auto while driving south on Franklin at the Clark avenue curve. The auto left the pavement and struck a power pole adjacent to property at 3316 Franklin avenue.

Damage was caused by the front of the auto. A passenger, Robert James, 16, of 3220 Westchester drive, received minor injuries. She was charged with careless driving.

Injured in 3-Car Crash
Henry John Kohler, 34, St. Louis, was hurt in a three-car crash involving northbound vehicles on Benton street at 23rd street at 4:45 p.m. Friday.

Two autos had halted for a stop sign when the front of the car of Olive N. Little, 34, Rural Route One, collided with the rear of Kohler's auto. She was charged by police with driving too fast for the traffic conditions.

The front of the Kohler vehicle was knocked against the rear of the auto of Claud A. Hancock, 1811 Venice avenue.

Irv Comensky, 44, of 1060 Madison avenue, Madison, complained of pains after his auto was struck in the rear by a pickup truck driven by Edward C. Keenan, 2201 State street, at 9:40 a.m. Sunday at 20th street and Madison avenue. Comensky was stopped for a red traffic signal.

Auto Strikes Tree
A westbound auto that crossed Madison avenue went out of control and hit a tree several feet north of the 25th street traffic lane at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

John P. Stanton, 31, of 1832A State street, a passenger in the car, sustained minor injuries. The auto received front end damage and was towed away.

Stanton, owner of the car, said he picked up a hitchhiker and allowed him to drive. When the crash occurred, the unknown driver left the scene. Witnesses agreed with his report.

Johnnie B. Gibson, 49, Murphysboro, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital after the rear of his southbound auto was hit by the front of the car of Willie Wilson, 21, East St. Louis, on Missouri avenue at 22nd street at 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

Gibson reported pain in the back of his neck. He had halted his car for a stop sign. Wilson was charged by police with following too closely.

Car Hit by Train
Clarence Green, 44, of 2500 Denver street, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4:30 a.m. Friday after his car was struck by a Terminal Railroad Association train at 13th street and the Terminal tracks in Madison.

Suspect Must Be Advised of Rights If Confession Is to Be Held Valid

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association)

Police who seek to obtain a confession to a crime must first advise the suspect of his constitutional rights before any confession he makes can be considered valid under the law. Before a valid confession can be made, the person must be advised that:

- 1) He has a constitutional right to remain silent.
 - 2) Anything he does say may be held against him.
 - 3) He has the right to legal counsel and if he cannot afford such counsel, it will be provided him.
 - 4) If he chooses, he may have his attorney present during any interrogation.
- The transcript of any confession must show that the person who made it was advised of all of his rights and understood them.

In particular, if the person confesses without benefit of legal counsel, his statements must show that he was advised of his right to counsel and knowingly waived this right.

Each Case

The warnings now being given by police reflect a decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in a case which originated in Illinois, that of Danny Escobedo, who was convicted of murder.

His conviction was reversed and Escobedo was freed because the Supreme Court ruled he had made a confession without first being advised of his constitutional right to legal counsel.

The high court said this right extended to the moment of suspicion and interrogation as well as to the appearance of the accused in a court.

Miranda Decision

Again, in Miranda, an Arizona man, Ernesto, the court stated that a suspect must be immediately and explicitly advised of his right to silence and to free counsel.

Prior to the Escobedo decision, police could and frequently did obtain confessions without first warning the suspected person of his rights.

The decisions in these two cases, since they came from the nation's highest court, are now the law in all 50 states.

Most Foreign Service Officers Know the Language of Their Post

(U. S. Department of State)

How many of our ambassadors speak the language of the nation to which they are assigned? G.W.F.

Dear Mr. P.:

Knowledge of a foreign language is one of the principal tools of a Foreign Service Officer in his work at United States diplomatic missions and consular posts.

In 1960, Congress passed legislation which made it possible for the Department to intensify its efforts to develop language proficiency of Foreign Service Officers.

By 1963, approximately 85% of all officers had at least a minimum level of proficiency in French, German or Spanish, and 75% of those assigned abroad had a minimum working knowledge of the primary language of their post.

The Foreign Service Institute in Arlington, Va., gives instruction in about 30 languages there and about 50 languages overseas.

In the last seven years it has trained 2159 officers in foreign languages, lasting from four to twenty-four months.

In addition, several hundred officers study languages on part-time basis (usually before working hours) at Arlington, and almost three thousand officers and other staff and dependents study at posts overseas.

As to the ambassadors themselves, approximately 75% are proficient in the primary or primary-intermediate language of their country of assignment.

Further, each Embassy has on its staff foreign service officers who speak the language of the country. These officers act as interpreters for the ambassadors when required.

at least 100 miles beyond our shores.

If other countries can set such ratings, surely we should provide our lands beyond the limits we now hold.

Dear Mr. W.:

The territorial sea of the United States is three nautical miles. Congress has recently extended the exclusive fisheries jurisdiction of the United States an additional three miles.

It is the view of the Department of State that international law does not permit an extension of the territorial sea beyond 12 miles.

Furthermore, it is considered to be in the interests of the United States as a large naval and maritime power to have the greatest possible freedom of the seas and, therefore, to maintain the jurisdiction of coastal States over adjacent waters to a narrow territorial sea.

It is true that some other countries have made extreme claims with respect to jurisdiction over the waters off their coasts, lasting from four to twenty-four months.

In addition, several hundred officers study languages on part-time basis (usually before working hours) at Arlington, and almost three thousand officers and other staff and dependents study at posts overseas.

As to the ambassadors themselves, approximately 75% are proficient in the primary or primary-intermediate language of their country of assignment.

Further, each Embassy has on its staff foreign service officers who speak the language of the country. These officers act as interpreters for the ambassadors when required.

Hearings Only Sound Way to Adopt Complex Air Pollution Regulations

Statistical projections contained in air purity regulations are difficult for citizens and officials to evaluate. Because of their complexity, it seems surprising that the 1965 Granite City ordinance was extensively amended last week without the benefit of public notice or hearings.

The basis on which the issue was decided—"The people will want to know who is voting for and against air pollution controls"—was unsound. Sensible people are for good controls and against bad controls, whether the subject is air or anything else; the "fine print" is all-important.

It may be something of a "tempest in a teapot," since Illinois Attorney General Clark has ruled regarding air pollution that a state-local conflict exists when an ordinance permits what the state prohibits or bans what the state allows. Such a conflict "results in the state statutes and regulations prevailing," Clark held.

However, problems could develop since the amendment includes emission levels in categories for which the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board has not yet recommended standards.

We don't know whether the new Granite City regulations are an improvement or a mistake. But we do know that every Granite Cityan would be better able to judge them if "pro" and "con" viewpoints were aired. Public hearings should be held.

Experience, Continuity in Port District Supervision

Carl A. Ranft's willingness to leave the Tri-City Regional Port District to accept a full-time port manager assures the eight-year-old district of continuity and experience in its day-to-day operations.

The manager has served on the port board since it was created and was its chairman from 1959 to 1966. Harold R. Fischer, Ranft's successor as chairman, is a charter member of the port board and thus has familiarized himself with its dual program of encouraging water shipping and industrial growth.

Community Development a Basic Function of Public Universities in State

(Seventh of a series on the educational philosophy of Dr. Delyte Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, interviewed by Paul M. Angie, a historian.)

Angie: We were talking about extension work. Don't the universities perform another important function in their various institutes?

You mentioned the Planning Institute, which does, or does not, perform the teaching function. Then we have the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Illinois.

Morris: Currently our whole Community Development program would fit into this category.

We have a corps of individuals with a rather broad social science background who have been for twelve to fifteen years working with people in various communities.

In this activity we have groups going out into the community and working with the people, studying their problems, showing them how to improve their communities, how to make them more attractive to other people, how to make them better places for people to live.

This has been a very fruitful program, very helpful.

In our institution we encourage students to orient themselves to the society around us and to be helpful, speaking in programs and taking cultural programs out to the people or helping make arrangements for them to come into the university.

Whether the staff members are going out to the people or the people outside are coming in, they are engaging in a learning process by coming in.

Cyclical Aspect of Stock Growth

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. You always recommend growth stocks, but don't these tend to be cyclical?

A. Companies grow in various ways and at different speeds. The industry in which a company operates until a few years ago, chemical companies generally had an unblemished record as growth companies. But then many of them decided to enter the chemical field.

This new competition, and the overbuilding that resulted, created a situation where earnings were adversely affected even though the companies continued to increase. It would appear that the industry has now adjusted to that situation.

Savings Certificates
Q. We own several acres of land, several pieces of town property and an apartment house and some property in Florida, but very little common stock. Should we convert all the property into common stock and then invest in savings certificates in order to get away from fluctuations of income and the worry of managing rental property?

Fireworks Permissiveness Causing Severe Injuries

Less than a generation ago, family fireworks were common and each Fourth of July brought scared faces, missing fingers and deaths. The strict control of the fireworks industry now appears to be growing more lenient, at least at the enforcement level, and holiday fireworks injuries are increasing in number and severity.

Youngsters undeniably enjoy setting off firecrackers, twirling sparklers and sending Roman candles rocketing skyward, but the risk outweighs the value. Other games are available to them, and public aerial displays are not only a safe but thoroughly enjoyable substitute.

Questionable fireworks sales occurred locally this year, and there were virtually no limits on what could be purchased in some Missouri rural areas.

Quad-City parents ought to resolve that next year they will restrict their children's holiday fireworks to those ignited by professionals at public parks. The current leniency toward buying a new crackdown eventually, but in the meantime there could be a pointless and tragic toll of maiming and suffering.

Important For City to Keep Faith
With Its Sewer Financing Proposal

Granite City officials are correct in insisting that a full $100,000 of the $1 1/2 million federal grant augmenting their general obligation revenue bond issue be allocated to sanitary sewer construction. The remaining $140,000 will help finance stormwater lines.

These are the amounts promised in explanations of the sewer program to voters.

Reduction of the sanitary sewer share of the grant to $86,880 was discussed at the July 1 city council meeting, but the $100,000 figure was restored July 3 to keep faith with the original proposal.

The city also should endeavor to keep the total sanitary sewer cost as close as possible to the $225,000 sum used in the sewer election publicity. This indicated a revenue bond contribution by the federal government of $125,000, instead of $150,000 or $170,000 currently being studied.

No change is contemplated in the $2.50 monthly charge proposed for dwellings newly served by sanitary sewers, but the duration of such charges is, of course, of importance to the North Granite, West Granite and Mercer drive residents who will be paying for it.

Let Governor Know Lake Park
Has Solid Regional Support

The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO, gave appropriate recognition to this region's recreational needs in pledging all-out support of the $400,000 Horseshoe Lake park acquisition plan voted by the Illinois General Assembly.

Other organizations in this area also may wish to inform Gov. Kerner of their hope that he will support the appropriation.

Backing for the project is solid throughout the Quad-Cities and the Illinois Metropolitan area, and it can do no harm to make this fact crystal clear in Springfield when state financial commitments and resources are being weighed this summer.

Responsibility to Taxpayers

Why should we forget about them? Why should the state forget about them? The more we can enrich them, the more we enrich our state.

Education a Lifetime Process
And whether we're dealing with students on an intensive basis during a four-year period, or dealing on a less intensive basis over a lifetime, it seems to me that the process really is all of a piece and that we ought to think of it in that way.

Angie: Whether it be done in a classroom or in a laboratory, the more we can get the job done, the better it is for the state. The more we can get the job done, the better it is for the state.

Morris: As a matter of fact, the more we can get the job done, the better it is for the state. The more we can get the job done, the better it is for the state.

There is, of course, the risk, too, that they may be worth less.

If investing heavily in common stocks would be a worthy to you, perhaps your answer would be to put half of your funds into savings certificates and leave the balance in its present place or put just a portion of it in good grade stocks.

MAIL BRIGHTENS DAY FOR THOSE IN SERVICE
To the Editor:

No matter where I went in the Women's Army Corps, every one of the WAC's was very excited about mail call. Their faces would light up when the bugle sounded mail call.

Some of the WAC's received many letters and packages. Others wouldn't receive anything, and it was not only disappointing but extremely embarrassing to fail to get any mail.

While I was in Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, in the Southwest Pacific, one of my friends sent me a box of chocolates. She stated in a letter that she waited in line in Detroit, Mich. for two hours to get the chocolates. Also, the mail was so long in getting to us, that the girls were still receiving Christmas packages and cards during February.

So, the WAC's left their cards pinned to the tent until Easter.

All of the WAC's shared all cards received in the mail with other WAC's. And, all papers received were circulated from tent to tent.

It is wonderful to receive mail when far from home. We would write to those away from home, and some folks would write to their GI's in the service.

A letter can give so much pleasure to the receiver. It is nice to get in the habit of writing letters.

New Hampshire Lottery Afterthoughts

(Journal-Transcript, Franklin, N. H.)

We attended a motion picture over the weekend—a somewhat rare event for us. It's not that we avoid movies, but it generally works out that the pictures we might wish to see turn out to be scheduled at a time or place that makes it difficult, if not impossible, to attend.

The feature turned out to be something of a dud, but there was a first-rate short subject, the travelogue on New Hampshire, excellent in all respects, except that it repeated and rather emphasized the fiction that the New Hampshire Sweepstakes lottery, in effect, is a state lottery.

It's just about time, really, that we stopped kidding ourselves about this.

Distribution Formula
New Hampshire's lottery for all that the money is allotted to each community on the basis of a head count of youngsters in the school system, serves only to ease the burden of the property tax, and that only to a very small degree.

The effect would be much the same if the money were distributed to the local governments on the basis of the number of households, for instance, or perhaps in proportion to the amount spent on highway and street maintenance, or almost any other measurement.

As far as any real benefit to the school system, the improvement in New Hampshire education is concerned, the effect of the lottery is negligible.

Certainly there has been no increase in the amount of money available for education in New Hampshire.

We might cite what has happened here in the city of Franklin in the years since we had the lottery.

Each year the lottery fund received by the Franklin schools has been counted as school income, but it has been nothing more than reducing the amount of money that has to be raised through the total school budget.

Revenue Less Than Predicted
Franklin received a total of $138,343 in lottery money, the overall property tax bill was reduced by that amount, and there was a small saving to the property tax payers.

Since each dollar on the tax rate last year produced a little over $19,000 in tax income, that meant that the city was able to reduce by that amount, and there was a small saving to the property tax payers.

We have had a home assessed, say, at an even $5000. The lottery saved you less than five dollars last year. An assessed value of $10,000 would save something under ten dollars.

It might otherwise have been. We have had a home assessed, say, at an even $5000. The lottery saved you less than five dollars last year. An assessed value of $10,000 would save something under ten dollars.

6-Month Meter Revenue Tops Same Period of '66

Income from parking meter this year's collections a slight edge over last year's total. Lowest collections this year were reported for April when $307 in fees and $428 in fines were collected for a total of $735, the largest collection of the year was in January, usually a low-revenue month because of the weather, when income, increasing to $2,558 in total meter income for the six months of the year. In June a year ago, fee income was $308 and fines amounted to $649 for total revenue of $957. At that time the half-year total stood at $23,125.

Meters were in operation 26 days last month. Income amounted to an average of $177 for each day of operation, compared to a $138 daily average during May.

June revenue was a substantial increase over May meter collections which amounted to $305 in fees and $535 in fines for a total of $840. This is a sizeable drop below the May income of the previous year which amounted to $3799 in fees and $722 in fines for a total of $4521.

Revenue Behind 1966 As a result, meter collections at the end of May this year were running behind the five-month revenue of 1966, but the larger amount collected in June made up for the deficiency and gave

Violation of the newly-installed crossing gates and flasher lights at the dangerous Maryville road rail crossing off Nameoki road has been observed by a nearby resident of the area who told the Press-Record last week he has seen at least four or five motorists drive around the lowered gate.

Harold Smallie, 4870 Warnock avenue, who is in safety work at a local industrial plant, said he saw one man headed north in a car drive around the gate almost on the path of a fast St. Louis-bound passenger train.

Marvin J. Boyer, assistant cashier and loan officer of the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, has accepted a position as assistant cashier in charge of personal loans at the Farmers & Merchants Bank in Vandalia.

Boyer, 32, who began his new duties July 5, has been in the banking field for 15 years. He started with the First Granite City National Bank upon graduation from Granite City High School in 1952 and joined the Trust & Savings Bank on Jan. 2, 1956, as bookkeeper for the assistant cashier.

After having served as collection manager and supervisor of collections, he was made loan officer in 1963.

Boyer attended the St. Louis chapter of the American Institute of Banking and received two of the four certificates offered, in commercial banking and investment. He recently was elected as one of the three Illinois representatives to serve on the institute's board of governors, which administers the annual, educational and fraternal activities of the chapter.

Boyer is a member of the Granite City Jaycees and the third and fourth degrees of the Knights of Columbus and a former member of the SUI-SW Chiropractic Society, and has been active in community affairs.

Sewer Progress Noted in Report TO GC Citizens

Mayor Donald Partney today issued "to the citizens of Granite City" his "monthly report of a growing, progressive city."

His comments follow: "The matching funds that were provided by our citizens on June 10, 1967, will provide sanitary sewers in unsewered sections of our city and separate the combination system in a large section of our city."

"This federal grant of one and one-half million dollars was made to us because the federal government was convinced that the citizens of this community had reflected a responsible attitude toward their community."

"The passage of the $1,000,000 bond issue, so used to match these government funds, is in our self-interest and in the interest of future generations who will inherit the city in years to come."

"It is the duty of each generation to leave our city a better city than it inherited. We have seen the duty and are making up for lost time."

"The passage of this bond issue will give continued life and hope to a large section of our city."

"Granite City is a proud city whose citizens, over the years, have consistently voted for progress. This is progress that will certainly touch the lives, homes and property of many of our citizens."

"It has been made clear to this administration, by the federal government, that the funds will be available only if those communities who positively demonstrate their willingness to help themselves. Granite City and the citizens are this type of community."

"I extend my welcome to all citizens to attend council meetings on the first, third and fourth Mondays of each month to see your government in action."

Miss Aurora Chosen As New Miss Illinois
Miss Granite City, Linda Sabo, returned home Sunday after participating in the Miss Illinois contest won by Miss Kathryn Jean Myers, 20, of Aurora.

Miss Granite City was not selected as a finalist in the competition, which culminated with the crowning of Miss Illinois Saturday night. Miss Sabo, who sang in the preliminary judging, was introduced prior to the coronation.

Plans are complete for the third annual dinner at which Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce members will honor enlisted men of the Granite City Army Depot. It will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, July 31, at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Each serviceman will sit with his business-as-usual, and representatives currently are being taken at the Chamber office. Dr. Robert McCavitt, vice president in charge of academic affairs, will speak and the meeting chairman will be C. E. Blankenship, head of the Chamber's Military Affairs Committee.

GC Budget Making Stalled until July 17th

In a 90-minute special session Thursday night, 10 Granite City council members cut $30,370 from the tentative $2,447,400 budget. The cuts were made to some of the cuts would be restored at the July 17 regular meeting.

At the meeting started on schedule at 8 p.m., Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, was reluctant to begin the budget-cutting because of the poor attendance.

Mayor Partney commented that due to the slim turnout by aldermen, he would not call any more special sessions on the budget. An earlier special budget meeting had been held June 29.

Several aldermen were ready to adjourn last Thursday's meeting at 8:05, but it was decided to proceed through the seven-page budget to determine what departments could be trimmed, subject to confirmation by the Finance committee.

It took three pages before quelling.

Adoption Due This Month
With vacation under way, it appeared unlikely that all 16 members will be present for either of the two regular meetings remaining this month. Rutledge stressed the budget must be adopted at one of those meetings.

As the special session opened, Alderman Robertson commented that he "did not want to bind anyone to actions taken with his alderman absent."

Whitmer replied, "Then we might as well go home." However, Alderman Rutledge intervened to comment that the budget could be reviewed by those present to at least make some tentative toward getting it in shape for passage, and Mayor Partney added that the 10 aldermen could get started to begin cutting the budget before the tax structure down for the taxpayer."

Present for the special meeting were Mayor Partney, Aldermen Dallas, Bartoliak, Whitmer, Poulos, Rutledge, Norm Fry, and Robert and Daves. Also present were Controller Robert Stevens and City Atty. Richard Allen.

By the hour and a half, the council decided "tentatively" to eliminate the proposed hiring of a full-time city attorney, and the legal department budget by $8970, dropping it to $21,930.

The police department's $100, which was taken from the section for radio repairs and new equipment. The latest police department figure now is $340,000.

Fire Dept. Hit Hardest
Hit hardest was the fire department, with its budget tentatively by $20,290 with elimination of $21,000 for salaries for three additional firemen and $7500 for a second assistant chief to carry out inspections and removal of $1800 to blacktop the parking lot at the main fire station. The new total for the fire department is $350,780.

Also cut was the street department budget, with the council voting five-to-four for removal of $15,000 for the fence to be installed along Route 151 through the street department was $11,000, as $4000 was added to the original $20,000 budgeted for sidewalk repairs.

Also reduced was the budget for parking meters. Removed were $5000 for the salary for two traffic enforcers and $7000 for the meter patrol.

All Action Tentative
Separate votes were taken on each item discussed by the members present, and it was agreed a majority vote would be the deciding factor since all actions taken were to be tentative and subject to review at the regular meeting.

Sharp protests were made by Alderman Fry, chairman of the Fire and Water committee, when other aldermen began recommending cuts in the budget. "We're trying to get toward lower insurance rates in Granite City, and the inspection bureau recommends a fire inspector and at least one additional fireman at the main and West Granite stations. We've got to have three firemen at the main station, and no replacements for vacation or illness unless we want to pay for them. It's a long time," Fry told the council.

Non-replied, "We're here to cut the budget, not to argue. You can't have champagne when you can only afford bread."

Also pointed out the inspection bureau calls for a public buildings and business places. The $40,000 cost of the $7500 salary was eliminated, however.

New Pumpers Sought
When the council voted a new fire pumper for the main station came up for discussion, Fry said the true cost of getting it in shape for passage, and Mayor Partney added that the 10 aldermen could get started to begin cutting the budget before the tax structure down for the taxpayer."

Firemen's Pay Cut
Firemen from the Nameoki road station answered three alarms Saturday afternoon, including a call at 2:10 to the company trailer of Chester Barton, 1634 Sycamore avenue, where fire caused by a leak at a gas stove caused $40 damage.

There was $25 loss to shrubs set fire to by a boy passing through the Ira Brewer yard, 2444 St. Clair avenue, at 8:05 Saturday. The final call, at 8:15, was to extinguish a weed fire at Victory drive and the Nameoki drainage ditch.

UF Unit Reviews Health Service Aid to Public

Members of the Health Services Fund Review Board, agency of the Tri-Cities United Fund, met Friday afternoon in the local UF office to review request for assistance and hear a financial report.

The review board is headed by Arthur D. Roseman as chairman. Funds allotted to the board primarily are used to assist persons with medical problems beyond their financial resources. Two applications considered by the group dealt with partial payment of an outstanding hospital debt, requested by a widow, and assistance in procuring dental care and needed eyeglasses for children of a handicapped widow.

Aid Heart Patients
Reporting on the Health Services Fund's six-month expenditures through June 30, John Solenberger, UF executive director, said the fund's total disbursements amounted to $3043, with the largest expenditures made to assist heart patients.

Second highest allocation went to underwrite initial expenses of the new Indiana "group blood program," a project of the Tri-Cities American Red Cross chapter.

The UF director said the $900 blood program expenditure from the Health Services Fund is a temporary item, prior to the rate of expense being established and a separate allocation granted specifically for that purpose.

Funds for Cancer Patients. Financial help afforded cancer patients, amounting to $238, was listed as the third highest expenditure from fund appropriations, the Solenberger said.

Board members attending Friday meeting included Roseman, Dr. Felicia D. Koch, Sister Mary Frances, Jerry Reischneider, Mrs. Marie Whittle, C. A. McMillan, Robert T. McCann, and Solenberger.

Originally designated as the Social Planning Council, the division was established as a fund of aid to national health agencies in lieu of separate drives within the community. The council was renamed the Health Services Fund Review Board prior to last year's annual fund campaign.

80 Persons Needed

City Now is Ready to Hire Special Census Enumerators

Preparations for Granite City's special census are beginning, and on July 24, Newell W. Yoder of the U. S. Census Bureau is to arrive for conferences with Mayor Partney.

The mayor said today that the city will be responsible for recruiting about 80 persons to serve as enumerators. Applications for interested persons are available in the mayor's office on the third floor of the city hall.

The rate of pay will be seven cents for each properly recorded name, and the average count per enumerator is 200 names a day, the mayor said.

"Each applicant will be tested and interviewed by the special census supervisor assigned to the city, and enumerators will attend a four-hour training session to learn the use of census forms and census procedures, such as interviewing and map reading. The enumerators will be paid $5 for the training session," Mayor Partney said.

Listing qualifications for the jobs, the mayor added that all applicants must be citizens of Granite City and at least 18 years of age. "They should be of good appearance, physically able to do considerable walking and climbing of stairs, write a legible hand and be willing to work full time until their assignments are completed."

"When you accept your appointment, you assume an obligation to stay with the job until your assignment is done," the mayor stressed.

The special census is being conducted to comply with a circuit court order of last February—under appeal by the city—for redistricting of the city to seven wards by December 1968. The city presently has eight wards and will have cut back to seven if the population count is under 50,000.
